Listing of Claims:

Claim 1 (currently amended): A mask, wherein and mask comprises:

a mask formed in a decorative pattern from a single piece of a substantially pliable and opaque material;

a first attachment member on one portion of said mask integrated in said pattern of said mask for attachment to a first portion of an eyeglass frame via a curved end of said first attachment member formed into an interior of said mask; and a second attachment member on a second portion of said mask integrated in said pattern of said mask for attachment to a second portion of an eyeglass frame via a curved end of said second attachment member formed into an interior of said mask.

Claim 2 (currently amended) The mask of claim 1 wherein said substantially pliable material comprises [[:]] paper.

Claim 3 (currently amended) The mask of claim 1 wherein said substantially pliable material comprises [[:]] cardboard.

Claim 4 (currently amended) The mask of claim 1 wherein said substantially pliable material comprises [[:]] plastic.

Claim 5 (currently amended) The mask of claim 1 wherein said substantially pliable material includes [[:]] fabric.

Claim 6 (currently amended) The mask of claim 1 wherein said mask further comprises [[:]] said mask being formed from said substantially pliable material by paper-cutting.

Claim 7 (currently amended) The mask of claim 1 wherein said mask further comprises [[:]] said mask being formed from said substantially pliable material by die-cutting.

Claim 8 (currently amended) The mask of claim 1 wherein said mask further comprises [[:]] said mask being formed from said substantially pliable material by molding.

Claim 9 (currently amended): The mask of claim 1 wherein said mask further includes:
said first attachment member ~~is-folded~~ being bent inward from said single piece of a substantially pliable material in order to be attached to the first portion of an eyeglass frame; and said second attachment member ~~is-folded~~ being bent forward from said single piece of a substantially pliable material in order to be attached to the second portion of an eyeglass frame.

Claim 10 (currently amended) The mask of claim 1 wherein said mask further includes [[:]] said mask being [[:]] bendable in order to accommodate differing widths of eyeglass frames.

Claim 11 (currently amended) The mask of claim 1 wherein said mask includes [[:]] forming formation of the entire structure of said mask from a single sheet of said substantially pliable material.

Claim 12 (currently amended): A mask, wherein said mask comprises:

a mask formed in a decorative pattern from a single piece of a substantially flat and opaque material;

a first attachment member on one portion of said mask integrated in said pattern of said mask for attachment to a first portion of an eyeglass frame via a curved end of said first attachment member formed into an interior of said mask; and

a second attachment member on a second portion of said mask integrated in said pattern of said mask for attachment to a second portion of an eyeglass frame via a curved end of said second attachment member formed into an interior of said mask.

Claim 13 (currently amended) The mask of claim 12 wherein said substantially flat material comprises [[:]] paper.

Claim 14 (currently amended) The mask of claim 12 wherein said substantially flat material comprises [[:]] cardboard.

Claim 15 (currently amended) The mask of claim 12 wherein said substantially flat material comprises [[:]] plastic.

Claim 16 (currently amended) The mask of claim 12 wherein said substantially flat material includes [[:]] fabric.

Claim 17 (currently amended) The mask of claim 12 wherein said mask further comprises [[:]] said mask being formed from said substantially flat material by paper-cutting.

Claim 18 (currently amended) The mask of claim 12 wherein said mask further comprises [[:]] said mask being formed from said substantially flat material by die-cutting.

Claim 19 (currently amended) The mask of claim 12 wherein said mask further comprises [[:]] said mask being formed from said substantially flat material by molding.

Claim 20 (currently amended): The mask of claim 12 wherein said mask further includes:
said first attachment member ~~is folded~~ being bent inward from said single piece of a substantially flat material in order to be attached to the first portion of an eyeglass frame; and said second attachment member ~~is folded~~ being bent inward from said single piece of a substantially flat material in order to be attached to the second portion of an eyeglass frame.

Claim 21 (currently amended) The mask of claim 12 wherein said mask further includes [[:]] said mask being [[:]] bendable in order to accommodate differing widths of eyeglass frames.

Claim 22 (currently amended) The mask of claim 12 wherein said mask includes [[:]] forming formation of the entire structure of said mask from a single sheet of said substantially flat material.

Claim 23 (currently amended): A mask, wherein said mask comprises:

a mask formed in a decorative pattern from a single piece of a substantially pliable and opaque material;

a first attachment member integrally formed on one portion of said mask and bendable foldable inward for attachment to a first portion of an eyeglass frame via a curved end of said first attachment member formed into an interior of said mask; and a second attachment member integrally formed on a second portion of said mask and bendable foldable inward for attachment to a second portion of an eyeglass frame via a curved end of said second attachment member formed into an interior of said mask.

Claim 24 (currently amended) The mask of claim 23 wherein said mask further includes [[:]] said mask being formed from a single sheet of said substantially pliable material.

Claim 25 (currently amended) The mask of claim 23 wherein said mask further includes [[:]] said mask being formed from a substantially flat material.

Claim 26 (currently amended): A process for using a mask having a first attachment member and a second attachment member, said process comprising;

attaching said first attachment member to a first portion of an eyeglass frame by bending folding said first attachment member and hooking said first portion with a curved end of said first attachment member formed into an interior of said mask; and attaching said second attachment member to a second portion of an eyeglass frame by bending folding said second attachment member and hooking said second portion with a curved end of said second attachment member formed into an interior of said mask.

Claim 27 (currently amended) The process of claim 26 wherein said process further includes [[:]] forming said mask from a substantially flat material.

Claim 28 (currently amended): The process of claim 26 wherein said process further includes:
forming said mask from a single piece of a substantially flat material; bending folding said first attachment member inward; and bending folding said second attachment member inward.

Claim 29 (currently amended) The process of claim 26 wherein said process further includes [[:]] forming said mask from a substantially pliable material.

Claim 30 (currently amended) The process of claim 26 wherein said process further includes [[:]] bending said mask in order to accommodate differing widths of eyeglass frames.

Claim 31 (currently amended) The process of claim 26 wherein said process further includes [[:]] forming said mask by paper-cutting.

Claim 32 (currently amended) The process of claim 26 wherein said process further includes [[:]] forming said mask by die-cutting.

Claim 33 (currently amended) The process of claim 26 wherein said process further includes [[:]] forming said mask by molding.

Claim 34 (currently amended): A mask wherein said mask comprises:

a substantially opaque face portion of said mask;

a first attachment member integrally formed with said face portion and bendable foldable inward to attach to a first portion on an eyeglass frame via a curved end of said first attachment member formed into an interior of said mask; and a second attachment member integrally formed with said face portion and bendable foldable inward to attach to a second portion on an eyeglass frame via a curved end of said second attachment member formed into an interior of said mask.

Claim 35 (currently amended) The mask of claim 34 wherein said mask includes [[:]] said mask is bendable to accommodate differing sizes of eyeglass frames.

Claim 36 (currently amended) The mask of claim 34 wherein said mask includes [[:]] said mask being formed by paper-cutting.

Claim 37 (currently amended) The mask of claim 34 wherein said mask includes [[:]] said mask being formed by die-cutting.

Claim 38 (currently amended) The mask of claim 34 wherein said mask includes [[:]] said mask being formed by molding.
